

Audio Digital-Exclusive AUDAC distributor in the Czech Republic

AUDAC is happy to announce a partnership with Prague based Audio Digital as the new exclusive distributor of their innovative audio solutions in the Czech Republic. Audio Digital is a company that strives to provide the best solution possible for their clients. They will be handling the sales, distribution and service for the whole AUDAC product line.

Audio Digital's managing director, Michal Zeman, is truly excited to be representing the full range of AUDAC products. "I genuinely believe in the quality and innovation AUDAC offers and I am more than happy to be adding their products to our assortment," he explained. "We at Audio Digital value a high performance/price ratio, and that is exactly what you get at AUDAC. I look forward to enter this partnership."

AUDAC's international sales executive Bart Vandermot is also pleased with the new partnership. He explained: "It is always important to keep evolving as a business. By expanding our network and starting new partnerships, we can ensure that the clients all over the world can enjoy our innovations. We have the greatest confidence in our partnership with Audio Digital as we have seen first-hand the outstanding quality and service they provide to the customer."
