diaphragm tube condenser microphone. The Myburgh M1 will start shipping January 2020 and will be on display at the coming NAMM Show in Anaheim, California.

The M1 large-diaphragm tube condenser microphone will be available for shipping January 2020 and will be on display at the coming NAMM Show in Anaheim, California, at booth #15921 (Wave Distribution). Furthermore, effective immediately, Burg Microphones will operate under its new name—Myburgh. CEO Andrew Myburgh states:

“I truly feel the M1 is a special mic, sonically and aesthetically. Its design and development have been my life for the past 2.5 years so I’m very excited to tell you that our name has now changed from Burg to Myburgh.”
