

iZotope Cascadia

iZotope, a part of Native Instruments, today announced Cascadia, the latest addition to the Catalyst Series of intelligent audio plugins. Cascadia combines advanced adaptive unmasking technology with the rich sound of tape delay, providing music producers and engineers with the tools to create dynamic echoes, tight slapbacks, and innovative textures - without compromising clarity. Cascadia automatically carves out space for the dry signal in real time, so you can add dimension without clouding the mix. With intuitive controls and a streamlined interface, Cascadia makes professional-quality delay effects accessible to users of all levels.

Key Features

- Adaptive Unmasking: Cascadia reacts to your audio and dynamically creates space in the delay signal, keeping your instruments and vocals present in the mix without complex routing and long plugin chains.
- Flexible Delay Options: Create everything from subtle echoes to creative textures with ping-pong mode, reversed delays, adjustable modulation controls for vintage pitch drift, and more.
- Intuitive Controls: With a streamlined and intuitive user interface, Cascadia makes it easy to make space for your sound by customizing delays and dialing-in unmasking.
- Over 50 Professional Presets: Choose from a wide range of presets, offering instant inspiration for every mix and genre.

Bundle up with the iZotope Catalyst Series Holiday Bundle (limited-time, Nov 26-Jan 5 only), a collection of easy-to-use saturation, reverb, and delay plugins.

Dynamically add energy and character to instruments, vocals, and even masters using adaptive saturation with Plasma. Shape lush, three-dimensional reverb that won't drown out your tracks with Aurora. Reinforce your rhythms and create deep iZotope unveils Cascadia, an intelligent Delay Plugin

Dienstag, 26. November 2024 16:41

echoes, tight slapbacks, and creative textures with Cascadia. Give your tracks just what they need - exactly when and where they need it - with this trio of intelligent, intuitive, purpose-built tools. Some of the season's best offers are running right now at iZotope.com, like 60% off the award-winning Ozone 11 mastering suite through December 5.

www.izotope.com